Help The Apes

♥By♥Sienna♥And♥Isabella♥

Why Apes?

Apes are losing their homes because us selfish people are chopping down their trees and planting palms for things like Nutella and toothpaste and all sorts of products.

Apes facts

- ★ Most of the Apes on earth live in....Africa
- ★ Bonobos can grow to 1.2m tall. Sumatran Orangutan is 1.4m tall.
- ★ Apes can live up to 50 years of age.
- ★ There are 5 different types of Apes.
- ★ Apes can't swim so a lot of zoos have to be careful where they put the moats cause apes could easily drown.
- ★ You can find apes in zoos like Orana Wildlife Park in Christchurch NZ, but we'd rather keep them in the wild

How many Apes left are on earth?

There are 500,000 apes left on earth. These apes have been around for around 85 million years almost as long as the dinosaurs.

Why do Apes need trees to survive?

They need trees so they can eat and hide. We need to help stop cutting down trees and if you want Nutella then buy the chocolate spread without palm oil so apes can live in peace. You can buy it at any supermarket.

Next time you have a snack make sure it's palm oil free
